

Bibliographic Instruction

Understanding how to find and use relevant information is essential to the success of a student's academic career. The Bibliographic Instructor is responsible for introducing the various information resources that are available in the library so that students form both academic and lifelong research skills can meet their information needs. Instruction is given specifically in how to search within the college's online databases, how to search for books and other materials in the library, and how to determine relevant information on the World Wide Web. Other important library services are also discussed.

The bibliographic instructor offers both classroom sessions via the Bibliographic Instruction lab in the library as well as individual instruction. To request an individual or classroom session with the bibliographic instructor, please fill out the form that is provided on this page.

Bibliographic Instruction Class Request Form

|                                     |  |
|-------------------------------------|--|
| Instructor:                         |  |
| Telephone Extension:                |  |
| E-mail:                             |  |
| Course:                             |  |
| Days and Times of class:            |  |
| # of Students:                      |  |
| Writing Style (eg. APA, MLA, etc.): |  |
| Proposed Session Date:              |  |
| Proposed Location:                  |  |
| Comments & Questions:               |  |